DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- Claims 1-19, drawn to sensor pods, classified in class 340, subclass 853.1.
- II. Claims 20-74, drawn to a sensor array, classified in class 340, subclass 853.3.
- III. Claims 75-94, drawn to a method for conducting a downhole survey, classified in class 367, subclass 25.
- IV. Claim 95, drawn to a method of transferring data, classified in class 367, subclass 81.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions (III/IV) and (I/II) are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the apparatus could be used in land surveys where the sensors are strung out across a survey area instead of being placed in boreholes.

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require that the processor is designed and arranged to transmit first data to a first interface and receive second data at a second interface. The subcombination has separate utility such as a single sensor for use in taking data in a land seismic survey.

Inventions III and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the stored data could be transmitted from sensor pod to sensor pod by any means. The subcombination has separate utility such as transferring data in sensor pods used in any type of survey such as marine seismic or land seismic surveys.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
